The lighted holiday parade has become a family tradition for many in the community. It's not too late to be in the parade. There are a few requirements to be in the parade. Lights and lots of them! Each entry must be decorated with lights. Also, large equipment entries will need someone to walk along each side of the entry to ensure safety.

You can fill out an entry form at www.candycanesonmain.com.

The deadline for entry is November 30th, the Thursday before the parade, but it helps to plan ahead to ensure space for the lineup.

Curt also loves to make furniture. He has crafted several baby beds with the first going to their good friends' daughter's first child followed by his daughter and sons' first born. The last was for his niece's first child. Among his other projects are several gun cases, roll top desks, play houses and children furniture.

Deborah Attic

Can you believe it?!?! This year Deborah's Attic will celebrate their 8TH Candy Canes on Main!

In recognition of this achievement and their famous Leg Lamps, The Attic has upped their game a bit with a couple of selfies and group photo opportunities. You'll have to stop by and see their salute to "A Christmas Story".

While you're there be sure to check out all the vintage Christmas, handmade ornaments and other seasonal decorations. They may have just what you've been looking for!

On Candy Cane Saturday, they will again offer their traditional candy cane punch and cookies. And as always, a candy cane jewelry item gift with every purchase (while supplies last)!

The shop continues to grow, having recently opened another section located left of the Architectural Salvage room. This area contains more furniture and other amazing pieces. With now over 200 consignors, along with locally crafted jewelry and home decor, collectibles and reimaged pieces, there is sure to be that special item that fits your needs.

Deborah's Attic has so much to offer, including comic books, record albums and collectibles, all of which are surrounded by more antique and vintage items. The Architectural salvage section continues to be popular for renovators and crafters. The selections continue to change as some pieces are bought and even more pieces are brought in! As long as there are structures being dismantled, the salvage room will accept these treasures for others to utilize.

Stop in for the punch, stay for the experience!

Don't miss the Snowball Drop!

There's snow in the forecast!

Come to the Terra Cottage Balcony on Saturday, December 2nd at 9:00 a.m. during Candy Canes on Main for the 3rd annual Snowball Drop.

Shoppers will gather early before shopping begins, and snowballs will be dropped to those gathered below. All of the Candy Canes on Main participating retailers will have five snowballs with their business name and a number from 1-5.

When you catch a snowball, bring it to the business listed on it to redeem your prize! There is a limit of ONE per customer, and they cannot be redeemed until 10:00 a.m.

There will be one golden snowball dropped, and the catcher of it will win a 6.5-foot decorated Christmas tree by Terra Cottage. The tree will hold $10 gift cards from all of the businesses participating in the snowball drop!
